Room With a View

Why stay at a hotel when you can stay at a mansion? The newly renovated Mansion at Casa Madrona is homey luxury at its finest. A Victorian home tucked into the hill above the main Bridgeway drag, it's housed everyone from Pink Floyd (in the '60s) to Sting (allegedly a couple months ago). The nine guestrooms have a chic décor that highlights the building's original details, and windows that highlight the bay. If you're going big, go for the Alexandria suite with its indoor/outdoor kitchen and dining room (along with a private chef), which opens onto a deck that runs the width of the house. Or, you know, just rent the whole house. Its relaxed feel coupled with impeccable service makes a stay here a win for parents. If your kids need more convincing, go with this: You can get champagne delivered by drone. See? Fun for the whole family.
